Use Case Two
I am an employee of DCS. I manage the incoming work requests or requests for site visits that have come through via the DCS Mobile app. My first order of business after I have coffee is to log into my admin screen. This screen represents all requests that have come in with most recent request at the top. There

Use clicks on one of the entries which spawns new window.

User clicks on image and spawns larger view.

User clicks on image and spawns larger view.

Upon hitting submission button, I receive an email with confirmation that request has been received. Also an opportunity for marketing additional services.
